

A museum in Honduras has acquired a Lockheed C-130A Hercules for static display. The Museo del Aire de Honduras will receive a former Honduran Air Force machine, currently in storage at Tegucigalpa-Toncontin airport. Following approval from the US, the aircraft is to be transferred to the museum for restoration later this year. RAYMOND VAN DIJKHUIZEN